A MESSAGE FROM THE RABBI

All life is for limited days but memory can last forever.

When our loved ones pass from this world to the next, their lives continue there while we are left behind here with our sense of loss and grief. According to Rabbinic tradition, freed of their bodies, freed of the pain and pettiness of this world, our loved ones are aware of us, watch over us, and continue to love us from the next world, even as we continue to love them.

Memory is a powerful force in the world. When we remember our loved ones for good, and when we do good deeds in their memories, we build up their memories in this world. In this way, the impact of their lives continues, upon us and upon those whom we help in their names.

This Book of Remembrance is designed to help you remember them within the sacred context of the Jewish community: when you visit their graves; when you light the memorial lamp and visit the synagogue on the yahrzeit, the Jewish anniversary of their death; when you gather with the congregation to recite Yizkor four times a year (Yom Kippur, Shemini Atzeret, the Eighth Day of Passover, and the Second Day of Shavuot), when you give charity in their memory, and other times as well.

At every holiday table, at every family gathering, they will be with you. May your memories of them provide comfort and inspiration in your own life.

The Book of Proverbs teaches, "Zekher tzadikim I'vracha," "The memory of the righteous shall be a blessing." (Proverbs 10:7). May the memories you carry of your loved ones be a blessing for you and an inspiration to you to become a blessing for others.

REMEMBERING

Psalm 121

Essa einai el heharim,
Mei'ayin yavo ezri.
Ezri mei'im Hashem
Oseh shamayim va'aretz.

אֶשָּׂא עֵינַי, אֶל-הַהָרִים
מֵאֵין, יָבֹא עֲזָרִי.
עֲזָרִי, מֵעַם הַי
לֹשֶׁה, שָׁמַיִם וָאָרֶץ.

A Song of Ascent

I turn my eyes to the mountains
From where will my help come?
My help comes from Adonai,
Maker of heaven and earth.
Adonai will not let your foot give way,
Your guardian will not slumber.
The guardian of Israel
Neither slumbers nor sleeps!
Adonai is your protection,
A guardian at your right hand.
By day the sun will not strike you,
Nor the moon by night.
Adonai will guard you from all harm,
And guard your life.
Adonai guards your going and coming,
Now and forever.

REFLECTIONS

A Time For Everything

There is a time for everything.
A time for all things under heaven;
A time to be born and a time to die,
A time to plant and a time to uproot,
A time to slay and a time to heal,
A time to tear down and a time to build,
A time to weep and a time to laugh,
A time to wail and a time to dance,
A time to scatter and a time to gather,
A time to embrace and a time to shun embraces,
A time to seek and a time to lose,
A time to keep and a time to discard,
A time to tear and a time to sew,
A time for silence and a time for speech,
A time for love and a time for hate,
A time for war and a time for peace.

Ecclesiastes 3:1 - 8

Give Me Away

When I die
Give what's left of me away.
To children and old men that wait to die.
And if you need to cry,
Cry for your brother
Walking down the street beside you.
And when you need me,
Put your arms around anyone
And give them what you need to give to me.

I want to leave you something
Something better than words or sounds.

Look for me in the people I've known or loved.
And if you cannot give me away,
At least let me live in your eyes
And not in your mind.
You can love me most by letting
Hands touch bodies, and by letting go
Of children that need to be free.

Love doesn't die.
People do.
So, when all that's left of me is love,
Give me away.

Marge Piercy

REFLECTIONS

Love Cannot Die (For All who Mourn)

That he was dear (near) to you so many a year
But darkens your distress.
Would you he were less worthy and less dear
That you might grieve the less?
He was a golden font that freely poured
What goldenly endures,
And though that font be gone, its bounty
Stored and treasured still is yours.

The past is deathless.
Souls are wells too deep
To spend their purest gains.
All that he gave to you is yours to keep
While memory remains.

Who never had and lost, forlorn are they
Far more that (than) you and I
Who had and have.
Judge not the price we pay
For love that cannot die.

Arthur Guiterman

Give Me The Vision

Shall I cry out in anger, O God, because Thy gifts are mine but for a while? Shall I be ungrateful for the moments of laughter, the seasons of joy, the days of gladness and festivity, when tears cloud my eyes and darken the world and my heart is heavy within me? Shall I blot from mind the love I have known and in which I have rejoiced when a fate beyond my understanding takes from me friends and kin whom I have cherished, and leaves me bereft of shining presences that have lit my way through the years of companionship and affection?

Give me the vision, O God, to see and feel that imbedded deep in each of Thy gifts is a core of eternity that survives the dread hours of affliction and misery. Those I have loved, though now beyond my view, have given form and quality to my being. They have led me into the wide universe I continue to inhabit, and their presence is more vital to me than their absence.

What Thou givest, O Lord, Thou takest not away. And bounties once granted shed their radiance evermore.

Rabbi Morris Adler

ALWAYS REMEMBER

Yizkor For Yom Hasboah

We shall remember our brothers and our sisters,
the city houses and the country houses,
the shtetl streets rushing like rivers and the lonely inn on the country road - the aged man and the features of his face,
the mother in her kerchief,
the young girl with her braids, the child,
the people Israel in thousands of communities
among all the human families, the entire assembly of Jews brought down to slaughter on the soil of Europe
by the Nazi destroyer,
the man who suddenly screamed and while screaming died,
the woman, clutching her infant to her breast,
whose arms gave out,
the infant groping for his mother's nipple
that was blue and cold,
the feet, the feet that sought refuge though flight was no longer possible, and those who made their hands into a fist,
the fist that gripped the iron,
the iron that became the weapon of vision,
of despair, and of rebellion,
and those, the pure of heart,
those whose eyes were opened,
those who risked their lives,
though they lacked the power to triumph.
We shall remember the day,
the day in its brightness, the sun that rose over the bloody conflagration, the lofty, silent heavens.
We shall remember the mounds of dust beneath the gardens in bloom.
The living shall remember their dead
for they are forever before us.
Look! Their eyes dart round and about, allowing us no peace, no peace until our lives become worthy of their memory

Abba Kovner, translated by Jules Harow

REFLECTIONS

The Silver Platter

"No state is handed to a people on a silver platter."

Chaim Weizmann

The earth grows still,
The lurid sky slowly pales over smoking borders.
Heartsick, but still living a people stands by
To greet the uniqueness of the miracle.
Readied, they wait beneath the moon,
Wrapped in awesome joy, before the light.
- Then, soon,
A girl and boy step forward.
And slowly walk before the waiting nation;
In work garb and heavy-shod climb in stillness
Wearing yet the dress of battle, the grime
Of aching day and fire-filled night
Unwashed, weary unto death, not knowing rest,
But wearing youth like dewdrops in their hair.
-- Silently the two approach and stand
Are they of the quiet or of the dead?
Through wondering tears, the people stare.
"Who are you, the silent two?"
And they reply:
"We are the Silver Platter
Upon which the Jewish Nation was served to you."
And speaking, fall in shadow at the nation's feet.
And the rest will be told in Israel's chronicles.

Nathan Alterman

REFLECTIONS

For the Conclusion of Shivah

God is our refuge, and our strength; God is always our help in adversity. Therefore, even though the earth should change, we shall not fear. In all misfortune, God is our stronghold. Sorrow has been our daily bread, and tears of grief have been our drink. May the God of compassion, the light in our midst, lead us now to life. He will heal us, time after time. He calls our life away from the grave, surrounds us with goodness and tender love. May He heal our wounds, and may He heal the wounds of all the people Israel. And let us say: Amen.

As a mother comforts her children, so shall I comfort you, says the Lord. The Lord heals the brokenhearted; the Lord binds up their wounds. The Lord will be your enduring light, and the days of your mourning will come to an end.

Almighty God, Master of mercy, Healer of the brokenhearted, let neither death nor sorrow have dominion over us. Grant us strength as we mourn the loss of_____. May we always cherish what is imperishable in the life of_____. Bless our family with love and with peace, that we may serve You with all our heart. May the Memory of_____ inspire us to deeds of loving kindness. And let us say: Amen.

The mourners rise, and leave their home to walk a short distance together, as a symbol of their return to a more normal routine.

REFLECTIONS

For the Completion of Sheloshim

Were a mortal to live but a single year or even a thousand,
It would not seem enough.

We therefore praise the Judge of Truth, who takes, but who also gives life.

We know, Adonai, that Your discretion is beyond us.

We know, Adonai, that Your word is good,

But your judgements, at times, puzzle us.

And though we may brood over harsh realities,

We place our trust in Your righteousness and accept our lot, our loss,

And the love that remains with us forever.

Have mercy upon us, and strengthen us to maintain our courage

At this time of sorrow.

Adonai has given, Adonai has taken; praised be the name of Adonai.

Eternal God who comforts mourners, the life of one we love and long for is now a memory. Although our gratitude for that precious life is great, our anger and misery over the loss can sometimes overwhelm us. Yours, Adonai, is the fountain of life. By Your light do we see light. Illumine our darkness; send us comfort and consolation. Help us to embody the worthy qualities of our beloved. Grant us the determination and strength to extend that life by helping us enrich the lives of others. Thus will _____'s presence continue among us. Thus will our family's life continue in spite of loss. Thus will (his/her) memory endure as a blessing forever. And let us say: Amen.

REFLECTIONS

A Prayer for the Completion of Reciting Kaddish

Our God and God of our ancestors,
God of Abraham, God of Isaac,
God of Jacob.
God of Sarah, God of Rebecca,
God of Rachel, and God of Leah.

You sustained me on this difficult journey,
You understood my pain,
You comforted and healed me,
And helped me reaffirm my faith.

May You bestow blessing upon this sacred community,
May You bring peace,
To all those who join together in prayer,
To all those who organize a minyan,
To all who provide comfort and healing,
And whose sacred deeds bring holiness and renewal.
May we magnify and sanctify Your Great Name for now and forever.

So may it be Your will.
Amen.

LIGHTING THE YAHRZEIT CANDLE

It Is Less Distant Now

The yahrzeit candle is different,
Announcing neither Sabbath nor Festival.
No benediction recited, no song sung,
No psalm mandated.
Before this unlit candle, without a quorum, I stand,
Unstruck match in my hand.
It is less distant now,
The remembrance ritual of parents deceased.
I am older now, closer to their age than before.
I am older now;
Their aches in my body
Their white hairs beneath my shaved skin
Their wrinkles creased into my face.
It is less distant now, this ritual
Once made me think of them
Now makes me think of me.
Once it recalled relationships to them,
Now I ponder my children's relationship to me.
Once I wondered what to remember of them,
Now I ask what my children will remember of me.
What smile, what grimace,
What stories will they tell their children?
It is less distant now.
How will I be remembered?
How will I be mourned?
Will they come to the synagogue,
Light a candle, recite the Kaddish?
It is less distant now.
Once yahrzeit was about parents deceased,
Now it is of children alive.
Once it was about a distant past,
Now it is about tomorrow.

Rabbi Harold Schulweis

VISITING THE CEMETERY

The Gift of Memory

We thank Thee, O God of life and love, for the resurrecting gift of memory which endows Thy children fashioned in Thine image
With the Godlike sovereign power to give immortality through love.
Blessed be Thou, O God, who enablest Thy children to remember.

Rabbi Morris Adler

I Am. . .

Do not stand at my grave and weep. I am not there, I do not sleep.
I am a thousand winds that blow; I am the diamond glints on snow.
I am the sunlight on ripened grain; I am the gentle autumn's rain.
When you awaken in the morning's hush, I am the swift uplifting rush
Of quiet birds in circled flight. I am the soft star that shines at night.
Do not stand at my grave and cry. I am not there; I did not die.

WE REMEMBER THEM

At the rising of the sun and at its going down

We remember them.

At the blowing of the wind and the chill of winter

We remember them.

At the opening of the buds and in the rebirth of spring

We remember them.

At the blueness of the skies and in the warmth of summer

We remember them.

At the rustling of the leaves and in the beauty of autumn

We remember them.

At the beginning of the year and when it ends

We remember them.

As long as we live, they too will live; for they are now
a part of us, as

We remember them.

When we are weary and in need of strength

We remember them.

When we are lost and sick at heart

We remember them.

When we have joy and crave to share

We remember them.

When we have decisions that are difficult to make

We remember them.

When we have achievements that are based on theirs

We remember them.

As long as we live, they too will live; for they are now
a part of us, as

We remember them.

Mourner's Kaddish

יִתְגַּדֵּל וְיִתְקַדֵּשׁ שְׁמֵהּ רַבָּא. בְּעֵלְמָא דִּיבְרָא כְרַעוּתָהּ, וְיִמְלִיךָ מַלְכוּתָהּ.

Hallowed and enhanced may He be throughout the world of His own creation. May He cause His sovereignty soon to be accepted, during our life and the life of all Israel. And let us say: Amen.

May He be praised throughout all time. Glorified and celebrated, lauded and praised, acclaimed and honored, extolled and exalted may the Holy One be, far beyond all song and psalm, beyond all tributes which man can utter. And let us say: Amen.

Let there be abundant peace from Heaven, with life's goodness for us and for all the people Israel. And let us say: Amen.

He who brings peace to His universe will bring peace to us and to all the people Israel.

Our Creator, the King of kings, delights in life. Because of His love for us and because we are so few, each of us is important in His kingdom. Though we are flesh and blood, we are irreplaceable. When one of the House of Israel dies, there is a loss of glory in His kingdom, and His grandeur is diminished. Therefore, brethren of the House of Israel, all of you who mourn and all of you who remember on this day, let us fix our hearts on our Father in Heaven, our King and our Redeemer, and let us pray for ourselves, and for Him too, that He and His kingdom be hallowed and enhanced, glorified and celebrated.

Psalm 23

Exalted, compassionate God, comfort the bereaved families of this congregation. Help all of us to perpetuate the worthy values in the lives of those no longer with us, whose names we respectfully recall:

(Names are read.)

May their memory endure as a blessing. And let us say: Amen.

The rabbi reads aloud, in memory of congregants who died during the past year.

We lovingly recall the members of our congregation who have passed away since we gathered in this sanctuary on last Yom Kippur. They have a special place in our hearts. We pray this day that all who have sustained the loss of loved ones in the year gone by be granted comfort and strength.

Three score and ten our years may number, four score years if granted the vigor.

Laden with trouble and travail,
life quickly passes, it flies away.

Teach us to use all our days, O Lord, that we may attain a heart of wisdom.

Grant us Your love in the morning,
that we may joyously sing all our days.

שְׁוִיתִי יְיָ לְנִגְדֵי תְמִיד, כִּי מִימִינִי בֵּל אָמוּט.
לְכֵן שָׁמַח לִבִּי גִיגֹל כְּבוֹדֵי, אַף בְּשָׂרֵי יִשְׁפֹן לְבַטָּה.

When I stray from You, O Lord, my life is as death;
but when I cleave to You, even in death I have life.

You embrace the souls of the living and the dead.

The earth inherits that which perishes.

*But only the dust returns to dust;
the soul, which is God's, is immortal.*

The Lord has compassion for His creatures.

He has planted eternity within our soul, granting us a share in His unending life.

He redeems our life from the grave.

During our brief life on earth He gives us choices.

We can cherish hopes, embrace values and perform deeds which death cannot destroy.

May we all be charitable in deed and in thought, in memory of those we love who walk the earth no longer.

May we live unselfishly, in truth and love and peace, so that we will be remembered as a blessing, as we this day lovingly remember those whose lives endure as a blessing.

Our generations are bound to each other as children now remember their parents. Love is strong as death as husbands and wives now remember their mates, as parents now remember their children. Memory conquers death's dominion as we now remember our brothers and sisters, grandparents and other relatives and friends.

Hazzan:

יִי מָה אָדָם וַתִּדְעָהּוּ, בְּיוֹם-אָנוּשׁ וַתִּסְשָׁבְהוּ.
 אָדָם לְהַגִּיל דָּמָה, יָמָיו כְּצֶלַע עוֹבֵר.
 בְּבִקְרָה יִצְיִץ וְחָלַף, לְעָרֵב יִמּוּלֵל וַיִּבָּשׁ.
 תָּשׁוּב אָנוּשׁ עַד דָּפָא, וַתֵּאמֶר שׁוּבוּ בְנֵי אָדָם.
 שׁוּבָה יִי עַד מָתִי, וְהִנָּחֵם עַל עֲבֹדָיךָ.

There is a time for everything;
 there is a time for all things under the sun:

a time to be born and a time to die

a time to laugh and a time to cry

a time to dance and a time to mourn

a time to seek and a time to lose a time to forget and a time to remember.

This day in sacred convocation we remember those who gave us life.

This day we remember those who enriched our life with love and with beauty, with kindness and compassion, with thoughtfulness and understanding.

This day we renew the bonds that bind us to those who have gone the way of all the earth.

As we reflect upon those whose memory moves us this day, we seek consolation, and the strength and the insight born of faith.

Tender as a father with his children,
 the Lord is merciful with His worshippers.

*He knows how we are fashioned;
 He remembers that we are dust.*

The days of man are as grass;
 he flourishes as a flower in the field.

*The wind passes over it and it is gone,
 and no one can recognize where it grew.*

But the Lord's compassion for His worshippers,
 His righteousness to children's children,
 remain, age after age, unchanging.
